NEWSY NEWS

By Ralph F. Cummings

In "Good Old Days" for August '67 there is a very fine article on the "Milwaukee July 4th Circus Parade," well illustrated and what not.

No doubt all you members have been following the History of the Happy Hours Brotherhood and Dime Novel Round-Up. Good—Part 3 will be the next instalment, and I am sure you all will enjoy every bit of it. I've already sent in the 3rd installment, and will get started on the 4th installment when I get back home, or as soon as I can. Hope my memory can serve me well.

Wish I had started 10 years ago.

Bill Claggett says he has cataracts, and can't have them removed on account of sugar in the urine. So you see, no matter where you go, we all have our aches and pains in one way or another.

Back numbers Reckless Ralph's Dime Novel Roundup, Nos. 1 to 237, some reprints, 12 for $1.00 or all for $21. Sent postpaid. You also get Dime Novel Catalogue, Birthday No. 2, indexes, #1 Pioneer and Scouts of the West.

Can you beat it?

FANTASY, SCIENCE FICTION AND LOST RACE ADVENTURE IN THE STREET AND SMITH PAPERBACK VOLUMES

By Stuart A. Teitler

The list to follow constitutes all of the fantastic novels that I have thus far been able to discover. I have included a few that sound likely and would appreciate any additional information.

- Cook, William Wallace—Adrift In The Unknown (Adventure Lib.) Interplanetary. Journey to the planet Mercury (tongue in cheek).
- Cook, William Wallace—Castaway At The Pole (Adventure Lib.) Lost race. Advanced race at the North Pole.
- Cook, William Wallace—The Eighth Wonder (Adventure Lib.) Science-fiction. Gadget story—many marvelous inventions.
- Cook, William Wallace—Marooned in 1492 (Adventure Lib.) Time-travel via time-machine to the age of chivalry.
- Cook, William Wallace—Round Trip to the Year 2000 (Adventure Lib.) Time-travel to the future—scientific wonders.
- DeMorgan, John—Lost In The Ice (New Medal Lib.) Lost race—Nordic peoples in the Arctic regions, also some elements of science-fiction.
- DeMorgan, John—In Unknown Worlds (Round the World Lib.) Lost race—search and discovery of the missing links, humans with tails.
- Carter, Nicholas—Fighting Against Millions (Nick Carter Lib.) Treasure and ancient Middle Eastern lost race in subterranean caverns.
- Carter, Nicholas—Bolts From the Blue (Nick Carter Lib.) Mystery and Sci-Fi.—mad scientist with remote control missiles of death.
- McDougall, Walter—The Hidden City (Columbia Lib. rpnt.) Lost race found in the Grand Canyon. They are a race of both Indian and white blood. The name of their city is Aztlan. Ancient records reveal their culture stems from the lost Atlantis. Originally published in hardcover and wrps. by Cassell, 1891.
- Westfall, William—A Queer Race (Columbia Lib.) Lost race located on an island in the W. Indies. Originally publ. in hardcover by Cassell, 1887.
- Haggard, H. Rider—She (Columbia Lib.) Lost race classic. Originally published by Longmans, 1887.
- Haggard, H. Rider—Allan Quartermain (Twenty Selected Books) Lost race discovery of a white race in Africa called the Zu-Vendi (Phoenicians). Published originally by Longmans, 1887.
- Haggard, H. Rider—King Solomon's Mines (Columbia Lib.) High adventure classic. Published originally by Cassell, 1885.
- (There are doubtlessly many more Haggard titles published by Street and Smith but, since this author is relatively well-known, I will cease here.)
- Lanza, Marquise Clara and Harvey, James C.—Scarbaeus; The Story of An African Beetle (Columbia Lib.) Weird novel. Originally published by Lovell, 1892.
- Hahn, Charles K.—The Wreck of the South Pole (Columbia Lib.) First story, short novel dealing with an advanced race at the Antarctic. Street & Smith also issued this one in hardcover that contains short stories—all of these are fantastic.
- Hume, Fergus—The Year of Miracle (Columbia Lib.) Science-fiction—future. Originally published by Lovell, 1891.
- Ozollo, I. P.—The Lost Inca (Columbia Lib.) Lost race—Incas. This was originally pub. by Cassell, 1889.
- Thorpe, Fred—The Silent City (Round the World Lib.) Polar lost race novel.

- Thorpe, Fred—The Boy In Black (Bound to Win Lib.) I was told, "lost race in Africa." Don't have.
- Thorpe, Fred—The Mystic Isle (Bound to Win Lib.) South Sea island lost race novel.
- Thorpe, Fred—Walt, the Wonder Worker (Bound to Win Lib.) Remains of an ancient race found in subterranean caverns.
- Sheridan, Frank—Walter Blackshaw (Bound to Win Lib.) By balloon to a Utopian lost civilization at the North Pole.
- Sheridan, Frank—In the Volcano's Mouth (Bound to Win Lib.) Hidden Middle Eastern lost race.
- Graydon, William H.—The White King of Africa (Medal Lib.) African lost race. This one was published in hardcover also.
- Royal, Mathew—The Unknown Island (Round the World Lib.) Sounds like a lost race fantasy. I don't have it.
- Loundsberry, Lt. Lionel—The Treasure of the Golden Crater (Medal Lib.) Degenerated race ape-like in appearance living within a crater in So. America. Street and Smith also issued this one in hardcover in 1902.
- Wolcott, Barry—In the Land of Treasure (New Medal Lib.) Don't have—sounds likely.
- Fenn, Geo. M.—The Golden Magnet (Medal Lib.) Inca treasure
- Bruns, Walter—In the Sunk Lands (Medal Lib.) Don't have—sounds likely.
- Lewis, Henry Harrison—The Valley of Mystery (Medal Lib.) So. American lost race story.
- Dalton, William—The Wolf Boy of China (Medal Lib.) Fantastic adventure of the oriental type. Also issued in hardcover by Street & Smith 1900.
- Stables, Gordon—From Pole to Pole (Medal Lib.) Science-fiction—submarine voyages.
- Ward, Herbert—A Dash to the Pole (Medal Lib.) Science-fiction—airship to the North Pole. Also issued in hardcover. Lovell, 1895.
- Converse, Frank—Van; In Search of An Unknown Race (Medal Lib.) Lost race adventure. Also issued in hardcover by Street and Smith and D. McKay.
- Verne, Jules—Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea (Medal Lib.) Science-fiction. Reprint.
- Rathborne, St. George—A Goddess of Africa (Medal Lib.) Greeks in Africa—lost race. Originally published by Hobart, 1899.

MERRIWELLIANA IN CARTOONS

By Gerald J. McIntosh

- 1—OUT OUR WAY Cartoon by J. R. Williams. Originally appeared in the newspapers possibly about January, 1928. Reprinted at least once on January 5, 1959. Father is reading a JAMES BOYS' WEEKLY, saying, "Why I don't see any reason for boys not readin' these novels. I find this very absorbing myself—exciting, I mean." Mother is reading a TIP TOP, saying, "Well, I can't see either. This FRANK MERRIWELL is a very manly fellow. Here he thrashed three toughs for annoying a girl. How long you been reading these, Del?" Son, Del, sitting and staring at the stove, says, "Them? I ain't read them yet. I ain't had a chance. No wonder boys read 'em out in barns and places."
- 2—SOURCE: Saturday Evening Post, Jan. 21, 1939. Cartoon by L. Ruprole. Skating scene. Frank Merriwell dives thru the ice, skates on under water, coming up some distance away. Wording, "Nothing daunts Merriwell. He doesn't know the meaning of the word, quit."
- 3—Jimmy Hatlo's Cartoon, THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME for Nov. 16, 1945. Football field scene. Anouncer says: "Wait, Merriwell is fading back for another pass, and it's good."
- 4—Jimmy Hatlo's Cartoon, THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME for Nov. 17, 1950. Football scene. The home town ahead and then some Merriwell pulls an 80 yard goal. Bang go your winnings.
- 5—Jimmy Hatlo's Cartoon, THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME for Oct. 12, 1959. Football scene. Merriwell, the High School hero gets a busted back in the third game of the season.
- 6—SOURCE: BOSTON HERALD. May 29, 1962. Cartoon by Dahl. Six different scenes, all mentioning Frank Merriwell, comparing him with the astronauts, John Glenn and Scott Carpenter, and "Ragged Dick," the Horatio Alger hero, and telling what he was and what he did.
- 7—SOURCE: NEW YORK DAILY NEWS, May 24, 1966. Cartoon by Bruce Stark. "Following the Script." Showing the American Boy reading THE ADVENTURES OF FRANK MERRIWELL, by Burt L. Standish, and saying, "Gee just like Ralph Houk!"
- 8—STRANGE AS IT SEEMS, the Elsie Hic Cartoon for Aug. 13, 1956, features Gilbert Patten, saying for his books the Frank Merriwell Series, wrote 986 consecutive weekly stories of the MERRIWELLS.
